

Competition:

DESIGN A LEAFLET

Competition for all undergraduate students to design a leaflet for the Commonwealth Games (Birmingham 28 July - 8 August 2022)

THE COMPETITION

The British Endodontic Society is sponsoring two leaflets which will be handed out in the Welcome Packs to athletes participating in the 2022 Commonwealth Games in Birmingham.

The BES is holding a national competition open to all undergraduate students who would like to design these leaflets. The committee will decide on the best entrant and the winner from each category will be awarded free attendance and travel to the BES Spring Scientific Meeting which is held in London in March. The winner will also have their design seen by all the sporting participants!

DESIGN CRITERIA

The leaflets will be A4, folded into 3 (DL) and produced in full colour. You may enter a design for one or both leaflets.

LEAFLET 1: This will focus on oral health instruction related to sports activities, concentrating on oral hygiene and diet, with specific reference to drinks and energy supplements. This can be based on the oral health toolkit.

LEAFLET 2: This will focus on trauma guidance based on the latest recommendations.

For any questions regarding submissions please contact Dr Josette Camilleri, School of Dentistry, University of Birmingham J.Camilleri@bham.ac.uk

Entries should be sent to Annabel Thomas at the British Endodontic Society admin@britishendodonticsociety.org.uk
